Tast Determined to Bring About Postal Readjustment.

Washington, D. C., March 1.—Magazine editors and publishers from various parts of the country called on President Tast to-day to urge further investigation into the postal rates that their publications should pay. The President welcomed the visit of the publishers, whose spokesman was T. J. Zimmerman, editor of System, and in answering them declared that as long as he was in office he was "going ahead to bring about a proper adjustment" of magazine rates.

"You may be able to defeat the present proposal," the President told them, "but as long as I have any power I am going to recommend the consideration of this question until it is settled. It is not in the slightest spirit of hostility to the magazines that I have made this recommendation, but because I am responsible for the government of the United States and the administration of it."

It is understood, although the President did not tell the publishers so, that he would be willing to see a further investigation, providing the amendment increasing the magazine postal rates does not pass at this time.
